Think pink

PINK is the hottest colour to wear for October, and for all the right reasons. It is National Breast Cancer Foundation awareness month, and Sydney's style scene has thrown its weight behind the cause.

True Religion has designed jeans embroidered with pink butterflies and flowers, and will donate $150 from each pair sold ($460) to the National Breast Cancer Foundation.

The jeans are sold exclusively by Paddington retailer Pink Zebra. Wear a pair to hip restaurant the Summit or the Opera House – both will be lit pink for the foundation's Estee Lauder Global Illumination project.

The Summit has created a special pink framboisier dessert and sexy pink cocktail, and will donate $5 for each one sold.
